1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Pat. No. 5681880 Desor et al..

Desor et al. add the instantly claimed zirconium compounds to the instantly claimed compositions. It is therefore expected that this addition process results necessarily and inherently in the instantly claimed acceleration of the coating composition. See the abstract; column 2, lines 25-55; column 3, lines 14-39; column 4, lines 1-33; and the remainder of the document.

4. Claims 1-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US Pat. No. 5681880 Desor et al..

Desor et al. add the instantly claimed zirconium compounds to the instantly claimed compositions. It is therefore expected that this addition process results necessarily and inherently in the instantly claimed acceleration of the coating composition. See the abstract; column 2, lines 25-55; column 3, lines 14-39; column 4, lines 1-33; and the remainder of the document. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the instant invention to use the instantly claimed combinations of ingredients and amounts thereof because they are encompassed by the patentee and would have been expected to give a composition having the properties disclosed by the patentee.
